

Notice on IELTS Test Epidemic Prevention and Control Arrangement at Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University (updated on 13 May 2022)

All the IELTS tests (Paper_ based) have been cancelled in June.

All the IELTS tests (Computer_ based) have been cancelled from June 4th to June 12th.

For test takers who registered for IELTS at Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University, in order to successfully enter the campus, please pay attention to the following requirements:

First, on test day, notes for all candidates to attend the IELTS tests are as follow:

1. Green Jiangsu Health Code and Travel Code are required to attend the tests. Candidates whose travel codes show cities with '*' will not be allowed to attend the test. Please always pay attention to your Travel Code dynamics.
2. Candidates must provide a Negative Nucleic Acid Test (either paper or electronic version) available within 24 hours on both speaking test day and written test day. The sampling and reporting time should be indicated in Nucleic Acid Test Report.
3. On the test date, candidates need to go through temperature check. Those whose temperature is at or higher than 37.3 degrees Celsius have a second chance and be allowed to attend tests if second temperature check is normal.
4. Candidates are required to show their original identity documents and admission tickets (either paper or electronic version) which are valid and consistent with those registering IELTS tests.

Second, all candidates are required to conduct self-health monitoring 14 days before the IELTS tests and make the records. The monitoring includes: high temperature, dry cough, weakness, hypoesthesia of smell and taste, nasal congestion, rhinorrhea, pharyngalgia, conjunctivitis, muscle pain, diarrhea, etc.

Third, all candidates will be asked to sign Personal Health Statements and wear masks during the tests. Please keep a distance of more than one meter when waiting in line and taking rests. Please don't stay on campus and leave the university as soon as possible after the tests.

Fourth, parents or companions are not allowed to enter the campus. Please do not gather or wait outside the gates (test venue: Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University Central Building).

Fifth, During the tests, any candidate whose temperature is at or higher than 37.3 degree Celsius, or has symptoms of continuous cough, will be terminated the test and handled according to the emergency plan.

You will be updated in time if there is any change on the above arrangements. If you have any query, please call: 0512-89165300; 88161220.

Test Centre Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University
13th May 2022