The XJTLU Syntegrative Education Model also offers EC (Entrepreneur College) at 'XJTLU Taicang Campus' to students who plan to be Syntegrative Elites or talents, to develop themselves into leaders for emerging businesses and industries through the integration of university, industry, and the innovative community platform.

In XJTLU 3.0, the university will serve actively as the catalyst and connector to create innovative and entrepreneurial ecosystem with industry, government and community to support interest-driven, personalised, lifelong learning, innovation and entrepreneurship. The four newly established academies-XJTLU Wisdom Lake Academy of Pharmacy, XJTLU-JITRI Academy of Industrial Technology, Academy of Future Education, and Academy of Film and Creative Technology are among the flagship projects of XJTLU 3.0. We have also established the overarching supporting platform - XJTLU Learning Mall to create a multi-faceted learning environment.

So at XJTLU, you will find it easier not only to study abroad, but also to make great progress in your career development if you learn to study with an active attitude and in a research-led way. We earnestly hope you will take full advantage of the variety of academic resources and support offered by XJTLU. The system (e-Bridge and Learning Mall) and XJTLU APP developments are still ongoing and you will be provided with new features on a continuing basis.

UNIVERSITY REGISTRATION

Registration is an essential process for all students to complete at the beginning of each academic year, which involves two parts: online registration and Financial Registration

ONLINE REGISTRATION

You will be required to provide and verify your personal and academic information online via e-Bridge (<https://ebridge.xjtlu.edu.cn>). The information you need to confirm includes your personal and academic details, and you should also update your home address and emergency contact information to ensure you or your designated contact could be reached in any emergency. Please note that the emergency contact information will be kept confidential and only be used for communication during emergencies.

Until your online registration is completed, you will not be able to access all of the features on e-Bridge, including class and exam timetables, module marks, and transcript and certificate requests, etc.

Normally, late registration onto a programme will not be allowed after the beginning of the first teaching week of the semester.

It is important that you provide the University with a valid mobile phone number, your home address and your emergency contact details whilst you are completing your online registration on e-Bridge. If your contact information has been changed, please update it on e-Bridge promptly. We will use it if we need to contact you urgently.

FINANCIAL REGISTRATION

Masters students should complete the annual Financial Registration by paying the tuition fees and other fees charged.

You should pay your tuition fees as per dates notified by the University, the deadline for which is the end of Week 1 of Semester 1 every academic year. You will normally not be able to start your studies until fees have been paid. Students who have not paid the tuition fee 2 weeks after the due date in spite of repeated reminders from the University will be suspended or deregistered from the University. Exceptional approval may be sought from the University for an instalment plan where there are real financial difficulties in meeting the payment deadlines.

STUDY SUPPORT AND RESOURCES

POSTGRADUATE STUDENT SUPPORT FROM GRADUATE SCHOOL

XJTLU Graduate School (XGS) is established to play a more prominent role in support of the academic mission of the University, as well as to broaden XJTLU's participation in higher education leading to a more diverse and inclusive scholarly community. The XGS will serve as the central body responsible for the efficient management, development, and evaluation of graduate education throughout the University, as well as providing an academic home for all postgraduate students (PhD and Masters) and postdoctoral researchers. It will work closely with academic units and coordinate actively with various central administrative units on student and programme matters at postgraduate level.

The XGS will be committed to scholarly excellence and the success of its postgraduate students, and will serve as an advocate for the intellectual development of all postgraduate students. Postgraduate (Masters and PhD) Support Team is one of the teams in XGS and provides support and guidance to both Masters and PhD students.

POSTGRADUATE RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

Postgraduate Research Symposium, organised by the XJTLU Graduate School, is an annual event that brings all our postgraduate students together to share their work, celebrate the research week, and learn about the breadth of scholarly endeavours taking place beyond their own areas of study. It provides opportunities for our Master and PhD Students to present their research to a degree-educated general public in other research areas, and to receive feedback on their presentations from senior academics and fellow research students.

The Symposium usually takes place every December. You are encouraged to participate in this activity, which will provide you with a social and networking opportunity where learning, feedback and information are freely exchanged between subject areas and departments, in a friendly and supportive environment.

XJTLU ADVISING SYSTEM

ACADEMIC ADVISER (AA)

The University implements a straightforward, institution-wide system for the provision of academic and career guidance and the monitoring of student performance.

For each master programme, the programme director is responsible for the development, organisation and leadership of the programme and for the academic experience of the students on that programme. Programme directors ensure that appropriate and effective processes and procedures are in place, and students on the particular programme are provided with sufficient academic support.

You will also be assigned an academic adviser to advise for your academic and career development

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT ADVISER (DA)

Development Adviser mainly provides one-to-one support on some non-academic issues for domestic Master and PhD students that may affect students' academic progress, campus experience and personal growth & development, and especially pays attention to students' wellbeing.

DA plays three key roles as ADVISER, FACILITATOR and COORDINATOR. As an adviser, DA supports students who come for advice or helps students who are confronted with difficulty or have potential risks. Student Development Advice Centre (SDAC) will also try to facilitate activities and coordinate internal and external resources to work on students' personal growth.

To contact the SDAC, please email sda@xjtlu.edu.cn; or find your DA's information on e-Bridge.

ACADEMIC SERVICES AND SUPPORT

MODULE ENROLMENT AND TIMETABLE

The e-Bridge system maintains the information of your module enrolment, including compulsory modules required by your programme and the optional modules of your choice. Your personal timetable will be developed based on your finalised module list and published to you on e-Bridge before the start of each semester. You will also be enrolled onto your modules on XJTLU's Learning Mall Core, the online platform designed to support and enhance learning and teaching. You can access Learning Mall Core anytime, anywhere in order to stay up-to-date with your modules, communicate with teachers, view important learning resources, submit coursework assignments, and so on.

ACADEMIC RECORDS, TRANSCRIPTS AND CERTIFICATES

Registry uses e-Bridge (<https://ebridge.xjtlu.edu.cn>), XJTLU's web-based student information system, to record your personal information and academic records during your study at XJTLU. You can access e-Bridge to check your module taking list, module marks, progression results, and others.

If you would like to obtain a stamped official record of study and certificates, you need to login to e-Bridge and complete the online request form on Student Academic Records Page. A confirmation email will be sent to you once your request is submitted successfully. It usually takes five working days to process your request, and you will be notified via email once your documents are ready. For further questions, please email Transcripts@xjtlu.edu.cn.

SUSPENSION AND WITHDRAWAL

If you encounter persistent health issues or other personal difficulties which prevent you from continuing your studies, you may apply for suspension of your study. Before you apply, please discuss with your family and consult your Academic Adviser, your Development Adviser and the Registry Office about your study plan. The application for suspension of studies shall normally be made before the start of each academic year.

You may have your studies suspended only once during your registration period.

We hope you will graduate successfully from the University, but we know that sometimes students have to leave before they complete their studies. Please consult your programme director if you are thinking of withdrawing. If you decide to do so, you should complete the Withdrawal process with the Student Academic Services team of Registry.

If you have any questions about the services and support provided by Registry, you may contact the Student Academic Services Team in Registry, where you may also seek advice and guidance if you have questions about the University policies and procedures or academic regulations in general.

LANGUAGE AND ACADEMIC SKILLS SUPPORT FROM THE SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES

ENGLISH LANGUAGE CENTRE

Through its dedicated PG Division, the English Language Centre (ELC) offers a range of English language and academic skills support and development options to all XJTLU Master's students.

Support options are tailored to the needs of students in an EMI (English as Medium of Instruction) context and include EAP (English for Academic Purpose) courses and a series of Continuing Support services designed to enhance the reading, writing, speaking and transferable academic skills needed to be successful as Master's students and members of the academic community.

The ELC offers four EAP courses focusing on different language skills:

LAN915: Reading for Writing

This is a mandatory module for master's students admitted on the condition of attending the Pre-session English course. The module is 9 weeks long and students meet once a week for 2 hours during Semester 1. The major aim of the module is to expose students to a range of academic reading and writing skills for an English-medium academic environment.

LAN916: Writing for Academic Purposes

This Semester 2 module is linked to LAN915, and it focuses on engaging students in writing advanced written research genres. It has the same number of instruction hours and delivery pattern as LAN915.

LAN917: Academic Presentation and Seminar Skills

This Semester 1 module is 9 weeks long and students meet once a week for 2 hours. It aims to enhance students' understanding and use of appropriate academic language, style and structure for general academic oral communications.

LAN918: Advanced Academic Presentation and Seminar Skills

This Semester 2 module is linked to LAN917 and it is more advanced though as it focuses on research-oriented oral communications. It has the same number of instruction hours and delivery pattern as LAN917.

The Continuing Support services can be accessed via a combination of on-site/online activities, which include lectures, workshops, Speaking Clinic sessions, bookable one-to-one consultations, and online resources for self-study.

- Lectures: 12 lectures will be offered each semester, aiming to develop the ability of Master's students to read and write research articles for publication in their discipline-specific English-medium journals. The lectures will be delivered by Professor Jigang Cai, a well-known EAP expert from Fudan University.
- Speaking Clinics: Built upon the idea of conversational 'English Corners', speaking clinics are designed for small groups of Master's students wishing to develop their speaking fluency and academic discussion skills. With the facilitation of a teacher, students will engage in discussions in a group of 3-5 based on a Ted Talk.
- Workshops: compared with lectures, workshops, good for 20-30 participants, are more interactive with a focus on hands-on practice of academic skills. Topics of the previous workshops include research ethics, SPSS, digital tools for academic researchers, etc.
- One-to-one consultations: These are 1-hour meetings between a student and an ELC PG lecturer, reviewing the student's writing or speaking assignment and discussing other specific concerns relating to academic writing or speaking skills.
- Self-study resources: Online self-study resources develop a range of academic topics and language skills in multimedia units (e.g., language focus, PSE catchup, academic wordlist). To complete one unit, students produce online responses to a series of short tasks.

MODERN LANGUAGES CENTRE

The Modern Languages Center offers Chinese, Spanish and Japanese language programmes.

According to the government instruction from the Chinese Ministry of Education, Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Ministry of Public Safety – Policy 42 and Policy 50 regarding the recruiting and cultivating of international students, it would be compulsory for international Master students to learn Chinese language when studying at XJTLU. It aims to develop international students' Chinese communicative competency. Your Chinese language proficiency is expected to achieve a level equivalent to HSK 3 (Chinese Proficiency Test Level 3) when graduating.

Chinese languages above HSK3 level and Spanish and Japanese language modules are available via the University Extended Study Scheme (ESS).

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

If you are experiencing temporary financial difficulties, you should seek advice from the Postgraduate Support team at Graduate School. The application for special instalment plan may be considered with adequate evidence and relevant supporting documents, subject to the University's approval.

MY STUDY AT XJTU

PROGRAMMES AND MODULES

All XJTU master programmes involve a combination of individual research and taught modules. Master of Research and Professional Master's degree programmes focus on the development of advanced knowledge and research skills where the majority of activities comprise independent research supported by structured assessed modules. The award of Master of Research requires successful completion of at least 60 credits, which include a minimum of 20 credits taught modules and a minimum of 40 credits research project(s) or dissertation. The Professional Master's award requires successful completion of 60 or 80 credits, which include 40 to 60 credits taught modules and 20 credits project modules or dissertation.

Taught Master programmes involve both a substantial piece(s) of independent work, and a range of assessed modules, which is normally comprised of 60 credits, 40 credits of taught modules and 20 credits of research (project or dissertation). The language of teaching and assessment at XJTU is English for all master programmes.

Change of master programme is normally not allowed after you have registered in the University. Exceptional considerations will be given only on solid academic grounds.

PROGRAMME AND MODULE MODIFICATIONS

The University is committed to the ongoing development and improvement of its programmes, taking account of developments in the discipline and pedagogic practice, and ensures that all modifications to programmes and/or modules, or the introduction of new module should follow relevant university guidelines and processes which are benchmarked against the UK's Quality Assurance Agency's (QAA) expectations about programme monitoring and review.

All updated programme and module specifications are regularly published on e-Bridge:
<https://ebridge.xjtlu.edu.cn/>

MODULE ENROLMENT

Modules can be compulsory or optional. Compulsory modules are those that you must take as specified in your programme specification and they provide content for meeting the learning outcomes of the programme. An optional module is one that you can choose from among alternatives as per your programme specification. To choose a certain optional module, you may need to take another module which is labelled as prerequisite module.

You will be automatically registered to all compulsory modules and depending on your programme of study you may be required to select optional module(s). If you are not sure which modules to take, you should in the first instance discuss the options with your programme director. Change of optional module will only be allowed if places are available on the module and if the teaching timetable can accommodate the revised module combination. However, such change will normally not be allowed after two teaching weeks from the start of teaching in the semester.

XJTLU EXTENDED STUDIES SCHEME

Extended Studies Scheme (ESS) is a new form of education provision of XJTLU whereby students are provided with the opportunity to study credit-bearing modules that are not part of their enrolled programme of study, and do not count toward the degree requirements of their enrolled programme of study. Through ESS, students are able to pursue academic interests in wider disciplinary areas to learn new knowledge and skills which would assist them in developing academic potential as well as career opportunities.

More information of ESS can be found on the ESS page of e-Bridge.

ATTENDANCE

You are expected to attend all timetabled activities for your programme of study, including off-campus activities. If you are regularly absent from classes or exams, your School Progress Committee may decide that you should not be offered a resit opportunity for any failed modules. For more severe cases of non-attendance, your School Progress Committee may recommend to the University Progress Committee that your studies be terminated.

ASSESSMENTS AND EXAMINATIONS

MARKING SCHEME

The University adopts a British marking and degree classification scheme within Chinese Higher Education System. 70% or over represents Distinction, and 50% is the pass mark for all modules in master programmes of study. Where the average total marks in all taught modules is 50% or above, a mark of 40-49% shall be deemed compensatable in only one taught module of 5 credits. Compensation shall not be applied where more than 5 credits are failed.

MARKING DESCRIPTORS

The University has general requirements for work at masters' level. Marking descriptors have been established as guides to both staff and students about what is normally expected of work receiving a particular mark. The overarching standards set govern the interpretation of the performance criteria for specific courses. Each academic unit may also have its own set of qualitative marking descriptors which describe what each mark range represents in terms of student achievement in that particular subject.

MARKING AND MODERATION

The University employs anonymous marking wherever practicable. After the final examinations, final module marks and a sample of students' work are reviewed by the XJTLU module moderator, a moderator at the University of Liverpool and an external examiner. The purpose of this scrutiny is to ensure that the marks have been awarded fairly and consistently, with regard to Chinese and UK standards. The marks are then submitted to the board of examiners in the relevant academic units for final approval, before they are published on e-Bridge.

ASSESSMENT: COURSEWORK AND EXAMINATION

Each module is assessed independently, typically through a combination of examinations and coursework. The precise combination will vary from module to module.

You will be given details of the assessment requirements for each module by the module leader, and you could also check that information from the Module Specifications on e-Bridge.

COURSEWORK

COURSEWORK CAN BE:

- Formative - you receive feedback on your work, but the marks do not count towards your final module mark, or
- Summative - the mark you are awarded contributes towards your final module mark.

YOU SHOULD SUBMIT ALL COURSEWORK REQUIRED FOR YOUR MODULES. NORMALLY, YOU WILL NEED TO SUBMIT PAPER AND ELECTRONIC COPIES OF YOUR COURSEWORK:

- Electronic copies should be submitted via Learning Mall Core before the deadline;
- Hard copies should be normally submitted to the academic units coursework box before the deadline;

IF YOU SUBMIT COURSEWORK AFTER THE DEADLINE, YOU WILL BE PENALIZED:

- 5% of the total marks available for the assessment will be deducted from the assessment mark for each working day after the submission deadline, up to a maximum of 25%;
- Coursework received more than five working days after the submission deadline will receive a mark of zero.

Note: You should be aware that instructors might use your coursework for education purposes. Instructors sometimes use past student work to illustrate both positive and negative examples of academic quality. In such instances, the module instructor is expected to take steps to keep your identity confidential and anonymous.

EXAMINATION

Most modules will have midterm and final examinations which are normally used as a summative method of assessment and take place at the end of the semester in which a module is taught. You should attend all examinations required for your modules.

If you suffer from temporary disability or illness to such an extent that you are unable to sit an examination at the published venue, you might be able to apply for Mitigating Circumstances, requests for which must be made to the Registry with supporting evidence as early as possible. Details can be found on the Assessments and Examinations page on e-Bridge.

REASSESSMENT

Students shall be allowed for re-assessment opportunity in the failed module(s). Reassessment should take place no later than 12 months after the date of the failed assessment, normally within the registration period.

Immediately after the School Board of Examiners approves the re-assessment opportunity, the resubmission of Continuously Assessed Work may take place. In normal cases, only one re-assessment opportunity is permitted for the first attempt failure(s). Marks achieved in the re-assessment shall be recorded as the actual mark. However, the mark shall be flagged on the transcript, indicating that it was achieved at a second or subsequent attempt. In the case of a dissertation, the re-assessment must normally be the same dissertation topic as originally assigned.

Note: Some modules may not offer a resit opportunity.

MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES

Your performance in assessments such as examinations and coursework might sometimes be affected negatively due to particular circumstances beyond your control. These circumstances are described as 'Mitigating Circumstance', and can include:

- Illness affecting the student,
- Bereavement,
- Serious illness affecting a close family member,
- Unforeseeable or unpreventable events.

However, the following will NOT be regarded as mitigating circumstances:

- Failure to attend an examination due to misreading the examination timetable;
- Events such as holidays and weddings;
- Inadequate planning and time management;
- Having more than one examination on the same day;
- Clashes with tests or examinations organized by external bodies;
- Pressures from paid employment;
- Any event that could reasonably have been expected or anticipated;
- Minor illness or illness not regarded as relevant to the case.

There are two different situations when the University will consider students' mitigating circumstances.

The first is in relation to formally timetabled assessments such as EXAMINATIONS or other assessments which require attendance on a specific day or time, such as group work or presentations. If you believe that your performance in such assessments has been or will be affected by Mitigating Circumstances, you should submit your application on e-Bridge with documentary evidence, such as medical certificates, in order to verify your mitigating circumstances. Deadlines for the submission of applications for consideration by the Mitigating Circumstances Committee will be made known to all students at the beginning of each academic year.

The second is in relation to SUBMISSION OF COURSEWORK. If you experience illness or other serious unforeseen circumstances which prevent you from submitting coursework by the set deadline, you may apply for an extension to that deadline.

You should complete the form of Request for Coursework Deadline Extension with supporting evidence normally before the coursework deadline and submit it to your School/ Departmental Examination Officer. Late application with good reasons may be considered by your School/ Department but only if it is within 5 working days after the deadline or before the feedback has been provided to you, whichever is earlier. If you could not submit it in time for deadline extension consideration by your School/ Department, you may submit your application for Mitigating Circumstances on e-Bridge for consideration by the Committee as described above. Your application for Mitigating Circumstances on e-Bridge should NOT include the coursework assignments for which deadline extension has already been granted by the School/ Department.

CONDUCT OF EXAMINATIONS

The University is committed to fostering an examination environment that supports academic integrity.

STUDENTS WHO ARE SUSPECTED OF THE FOLLOWING WILL BE INVESTIGATED BY THE UNIVERSITY STUDENT BOARD OF DISCIPLINE:

- Bringing unauthorised items into an examination room
- Obtaining or trying to obtain, directly or indirectly, help in their examinations or trying to help others
- Bringing in electronic devices with data storage function, including but not limited to mobile phones
- Impersonating other students or being impersonated to sit the exam
- Disobeying the instructions of an invigilator
- Any other illegitimate behaviour designed or conducted in a way to deceive the invigilators in the course of examinations

THE PENALTIES MAY BE VARIED AND MAY INCLUDE ONE OR A COMBINATION OF THE FOLLOWING STANDARD PENALTIES:

- Written warning
- Award zero for the exam
- Award zero for the module mark
- Suspension for 1 year
- Termination of studies

All students should familiarize themselves with the Regulations for the Conduct of Examinations before their examinations and abide by it strictly in the conduct of each examination.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The University aims to foster a learning environment which produces students who embrace academic integrity, understand that they must produce their own work, are able to acknowledge explicitly any material that has been included from other sources or legitimate collaboration, and to present their own findings, conclusions or data based on appropriate and ethical practice.

The University will support you to understand the standards of academic integrity, while you are responsible for learning and upholding professional standards of research, writing, assessment, and ethics in your area of study. Violation of academic integrity comes in many forms, including but not limited to the following:

- Improper citation or referencing
- Unauthorised collaboration with another person in the preparation and production of a submitted work
- Copying directly from other persons without their knowledge as your own-work
- Submitting all or part of the same academic work for two or more modules without permission
- Consciously representing another's work or concept as your own without proper acknowledgment and citation of the sources
- Altering data obtained by legitimate means or making up a portion or whole set of data and reporting them in your own assignment
- Requesting another party to prepare all or part of an assignment (with or without payment) on your behalf

Any violation of academic integrity is a serious offence and is therefore subject to an appropriate penalty. According to the individual case and the seriousness of the offence, penalties applied will vary and may include one or a combination of the following:

- A written warning
- A mark penalty or a zero mark for the assessment
- A zero mark for the module
- A note on student's records
- Suspension of studies
- Termination of studies

In addition to the respective penalty imposed, you may also be given feedback on how to avoid further offence in future work.

EXTERNAL EXAMINERS AND QUALITY ASSURANCE

The University is responsible for the quality and standards of all academic awards made in its and UoL's name. The function of external examiners is to assist the University in discharging its responsibility by providing assurance in their expert judgement that the standards of all awards at XJTLU are comparable to those in similar subjects at University of Liverpool and in other universities in the UK.

All assessments contributing 1 credit or more (e.g. 20% of a 5-credit module) towards the final module and at least 60% of the assessment component of the module are reviewed by an internal moderator, external examiner, and Liverpool moderator to ensure fairness and maintain standards.

After the final examinations, final module marks and a sample of students' work are reviewed by the XJTLU module moderator, an external examiner and/or a moderator at the University of Liverpool. The purpose of this scrutiny is to ensure that the marks have been awarded fairly and consistently, with regard to Chinese and UK standards. The marks are then submitted to the Board of Examiners in the relevant academic units for final approval, before they are published on e-Bridge.

Note that: Marks for modules completed at the end of the first semester are released to you after the approval of the Spring Board of Examiners but are labelled as 'provisional', as they are subject to scrutiny by the summer Board of Examiners.

XJTLU

ASSESSMENT APPEALS

You have the right to appeal against progression decision or the classification of your degree if a procedural error or irregularity has occurred, or if there are mitigating circumstances which for good reason could not be presented to the Mitigating Circumstances Committee earlier in the process.

YOU CAN APPEAL ON THE FOLLOWING GROUNDS:

- That there has been a material administrative error or other material irregularity;
- That assessments were not conducted in accordance with the current regulations governing the course of study;
- That there was a procedural error in a ruling of copying, collusion or plagiarism and defined by the XJTLU Academic Integrity Policy;
- That performance in the assessment was adversely affected by illness or other significant factors which for good reason the student was unable to present to the Mitigating Circumstances Committee.

YOU MAY NOT APPEAL ON GROUNDS:

- Which have already been considered by the relevant Board of Examiners or the Degree Evaluation Board;
- Which dispute the academic judgement of the Progression Board;
- Which could have been considered prior to the meeting of the Progression Board, but the student has no good reason for having failed to present them.

Any questions about module marks or component marks should be addressed to the Module Leader for feedback in the first instance and it is not covered by Assessment Appeal.

PROGRESSION, DEGREE AND AWARDS

PROGRESS OF STUDENTS

The University implements a Student Progress Committee mechanism to monitor student performance and to investigate any reasons for an individual student's inability to make satisfactory progress in their studies.

There are two layers of the system.

The School Progress Committee takes the responsibility to monitor performance of students whose progress gives cause for concern, to give a written warning to individual students related to their progress, where appropriate, and summon the student to attend an interview to receive appropriate advice related to the importance of improving academic performance and possible remedial action.

If there is evidence of continued absence from classes or other scheduled module activities or habitual absence from assessments, the School Progress Committee will advise the student in writing that the Committee intends to recommend that the student be declared "unsatisfactory", that is, to recommend that the student's studies at XJTLU be terminated.

The University Progress Committee acts as a scrutinising and regularising committee in respect of progress procedures throughout the University, and approves, or otherwise, recommendations put forward by Schools or Registry that a student be declared unsatisfactory or be recorded as withdrawn, and not to be re-registered without permission.

DEGREE AND AWARDS

Students shall normally be required to achieve a mark of 50% or more in every taught module taken and in any dissertation or project module in order to qualify for the award of a taught Master's, or Master of Research or Professional Master's degree. The award of Master's degrees is subject to the approval of University of Liverpool and the degree certificates will be conferred following University of Liverpool's assessment process.

A MERIT OR DISTINCTION DEGREE WILL BE AWARDED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE FOLLOWING CRITERIA:

MASTER DEGREE CLASSIFICATION	REQUIREMENTS
Distinction	FOR MASTER OF RESEARCH AWARDS: An overall average mark of at least 70%; and A mark of at least 70% in the research project module. FOR TAUGHT AND PROFESSIONAL MASTER'S DEGREE AWARDS: An overall average mark of at least 70%; and A mark of at least 70% in the dissertation or research module; and Marks of at least 70% in modules accounting for at least half of the credit of the overall award.

Note:

1. Overall average = $\Sigma (\text{module marks} \times \text{credits}) / \Sigma \text{credits}$.
2. For the purposes of calculating the overall average mark and determining classification, marks for modules passed by reassessment will be capped at 50%.

EXIT AWARDS

Master of Research programmes may have one exit point, whereby a student shall be awarded a named/unnamed Postgraduate Certificate upon successfully completing 20 credits, which may not include the dissertation or project module, or independent research.

Taught Master's or Professional Master's programme may have two exit points. Upon successfully completing 40 credits, which may or may not include the dissertation or project module, or independent research, a student shall be awarded a named/unnamed Postgraduate Diploma; upon successfully completing 20 credits, which may not include the dissertation or project module, or independent research, a student shall be awarded a named/unnamed Postgraduate Certificate.

STUDENT FEEDBACK AND COMPLAINTS

STUDENT FEEDBACK

The University is committed to receiving and responding to student feedback in order to improve the quality of the student experience within the institution.

Feedback may be gathered in a variety of ways.

If your concern is about a specific module and the syllabus or the teaching, raise these issues in a constructive manner with your Module Leader. He or she is in the best place to respond to you about the feasibility of making a change. Another way to give feedback is the Module Questionnaire. Your module leader will provide you with the details on how to complete these questionnaires at the end of each semester. This questionnaire is an important way for the module leader and the academic units to consider the module and any improvements that could be made in the future. It is important that all students complete these questionnaires - a high response rate increases the validity of the feedback.

If you have other suggestions about your programme or about any aspect of your academic unit's academic environment, contact the Student Representatives on your Staff- Student Liaison Committee in your department or centre.

Where the issue is more general in nature, and of interest to students in several departments, you should bring it to the attention of your Student Representatives on the Learning and Teaching Committee, Academic Board, or Student Experience Committee. These committees have student representatives as well as staff representatives from every department and centre, and from many support offices on campus. They meet regularly throughout the year, and are important committees to the University. The election of student representatives will normally be conducted at the beginning of each academic year. More information about student representatives, please email CommitteeServices@xjtlu.edu.cn.

Finally, if your concern is about the quality of service provided by the support offices on campus, you should feel free to raise this to the attention of the leader of the service office.

COMPLAINTS

Complaints are best dealt with informally, by addressing them directly to the individual concerned or the person who has responsibility for the area concerned. For a complaint which is of a general rather than specific nature, it may be more appropriate to ask the relevant student representative to raise it at the Staff-Student Liaison Committee or other appropriate Committee or group. If you are dissatisfied with the responses, you should submit a written complaint to the Head of Academic Units or to the line manager or Vice President for Academic Affairs who will investigate the complaint.

You may seek advice from the Development Adviser (DA) for any uncertainty regarding whom to approach at this stage. If you are still dissatisfied with the outcome and wish to take the matter further, then you may use the official complaints procedure. You should refer the matter formally in writing to the relevant Vice President for further investigation and consideration.
